Sharpville

My Dear Editor after an absence of about twelve weeks if you will grant me space in your valuable paper for a few brief remarks I will be very thankful and will respond accordingly making my note as authentic as possible. Previous to my last letter some twelve weeks ago only three letters from our worthy correspondents appeared during six months of my steady writing. But since my absence I note that many of our writers especially Valley Hill have become interested and so deeply concerned as to suggest that each and every ink slinger get busy and send in a letter every week regular. We will submit to the V. H. suggestion and we hope to see this plan develop. But how long did his or her spirit of interest last? Why you can imagine of course only a few weeks. Now aren't we interested? Some of the writers have begun to wonder what has become of Hill Brains but never mind about Bill he is always ready with the gods he has just been in waiting to see what wonders were going to do and to give the other correspondents a fair chance to demonstrate their suggestions. Now after my watchful waiting I must say and it is evidently true that when the spirit of regular letter writing shakes hands with our cor-

Commissioners Sale

In obedience to a decree of the Washington Circuit Court, rendered at the February Term, 1915, in the case of G. A. Mattingly, plaintiff, vs. Taylor, Masters & Co., defendants, I will on THURSDAY, MARCH 11, 1916, at about the hour of 12 o'clock, P. M., at the residence on the premises, sell at public auction the farm of which Taylor Masters resided, known as the Chas. Lambson Farm. This farm is situated about 21 miles East of Springfield, between the Mackville and Perryville turnpikes, on Pleasant Run, and contains 128 acres, 3 poles and 14 poles. This is one of the most fertile grain and tobacco farms in Washington County, and has on it a comfortable dwelling, stock and tobacco barn and all other necessary outbuildings. The amount necessary to be made by the sale is $1,358.25.

Terms of Sale: The land will be sold on a credit of one and two years. The purchaser will be required to execute bonds for the purchase price, payable to the undersigned commissioner for the benefit of the parties in interest, with good security, bearing interest from the date of sale, with a lien retained on said land with further security for the payment of the purchase price and the bond to have the force and effect of a judgment.

Application at the Springfield Circuit Court on Saturday the 11th inst. for the personal property of the deceased. The farm will also be sold later.

Mr. H. B. Robinson of this place and Miss Elizabeth Cornish of Lexington were united in marriage last Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Thomas Cornish. Mr. Robinson is a prominent young farmer while the bride is accomplished young woman. Having been a large circle of friends in this community where she has taught several schools. They many friends wish for them a happy and prosperous life.

Mr. Thomas Yates and Miss Jessie Darwell were united in the holy bonds of wedlock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride, J. A. Simms. Both bride and groom are well known young people and have many friends here who extend to them their heartiest congratulations.

W. R. McKay our hustling merchant was in Harrodsburg and Lexington last week.

Misses Ethel and Lorrana Yrager of Kentucky are visiting their brother Mr. E. D. Yrager.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Long will leave Tuesday for DeKalb, Ill., as Mr. Long expects to make this place his future home where he will for them a prosperous life in the westward.

Mr. P. C. Yates returned Monday from Bloomfield where he has been visiting his brother Mr. Charles Yates.

Mr. James Cornish will leave Monday for Ash Grove, N. C. to spend the Spring and Summer. Never buy what you don't want because its cheap but buy what you need at W. R. McKay's reduction sale because its cheap.

Honest Buggies

Built in these factories

Buggies built upon the principle adopted by Mr. F. A. Ames, their head and founder, 40 years ago, that every Ames buggy should be the very last word in honest buggy building. Upon that principle he has steadily built up, from a small hand shop, one of the greatest buggy industries in the world and hundreds of thousands of satisfied buggy men the world over testify to the wisdom of his policy. He will exercise his personal supervision over these great factories. Every part and piece must be made just as made of honest material made by "know how" workmen and under the most rigid inspection ever employed in buggy building—all that you might have and enjoy full value for your money.

Mr. Ames' Personal Guarantee and 40 years' reputation of honest buggy building and these $1,000,000 factories are back of every one.

You want to see the Ames before you buy—see the sturdy built body and wheels, diamond point French head springs, rubber seats, superior painting, upholstery, etc., which go to make up the finest looking, strongest, safest, easiest riding pleasure buggy in the world. Every thing you could want or wish for in a buggy or conveyance. Come here and see the Ames famous guaranteed buggies. You would certainly be mighty proud of owning one.

Al most a Centenarian
The oldest woman in Washington county passed her 100th birthday on Saturday, Feb. 24.
Eight Mrs. Johanna Scannell departed this life. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Scannell was a Miss Fitzgerald and was born in County Cork, Ireland in January 1816. She grew to womanhood in her native country and coming to this country she lived in New York City.
Scannell was the wife of a young woman who was united in marriage to the late Mr. A. S.
Scannell. After their marriage they took up their residence in their native land, but came to this country in 1850, and for about 12 years lived in New York City. Scannell is the early sixties they moved to Washington on county and settled near St. Rose. She was the mother of twelve children only two of whom survive her Mrs.
J. O. Poole of this county and Mrs. B. J. Scannell of Louisville. Mrs. T. J. McElroy and Dennis Scannell, both of whom are now dead, were here when Scannell was also the late Sister Benedicta of St. Catherine's and the late Rev. Father Joseph Scannell, who died in Memphis, Tenn., during the yellow fever epidemic of 1878.
In 1893 she suffered the loss of her husband and companion for more than one half century.
Shortly after his death, she moved with her daughter, Mrs.
J. O. Poole, which place continued her home until her death.
Mrs. Scannell was a remarkable woman in that she retained a clear recollection and remember up until her death, and the vigor of youth was never extinguished even in old age, and she was never sadder than when indulging in merriment with young people, with all of whom she was a favorite.
Although away from her land and many years she never forgot the green fields of the old soil, and frequently during her life was heard to sing in the Irish language, its national songs.
Those who remember her in earlier days, have many kind recollections of her willingness to help her neighbors, and many could give testimony of her virtues in this regard. She was very devoted to her children, and delighted to have her grandchildren assemble at her side.
She also had the pleasure to have several of her great grandchildren visit her before her death.
Funeral services were conducted at St. Rose Monday morning with Requiem High Mass by Father Christmas, after which the remains were laid beside those of her husband in St. Rose cemetery. A large crowd of old

NOTICE

The letter published below from the Controller of the Currency tells its own story. We might wish to indulge our customers in the overdraft line, but all can readily understand that we just CANNOT. Govern yourself accordingly and DON'T BLAME US when your check comes back UNPAID. The Kentucky State Banking Com-missioner makes the same ruling, and it must be obeyed.

THE PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK
THE SPRINGFIELD STATE BANK
THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
WASHINGTON

CONTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

January 18, 1915.

To the Board of Directors:
Gentlemen:

The granting by some banks of accommodations in the form of OVERDRAFTS is objectionable and can not be countenanced by this office.

This practice should cease entirely. To facilitate the accomplishment of this result, the subject has been taken up by this office with the banking departments of various states, and these authorities have generally agreed to take the necessary action to secure the effective cooperation of State banks in attaining the end desired.

You are requested to adopt a resolution directing to no officer or employee of your bank shall pay or charge to the account of any depositor any check of such depositor when there are not sufficient funds on deposit to the credit of the drawer of the check to meet the same.

Please forward a certified copy of the resolution to this office as soon as it has been adopted. Let the resolution show the names of the directors present at the meeting.

Please acknowledge receipt without delay.

Respectfully,
JNO SKELTON WILLIAMS,
Comptroller,

REWARDS FOR CONSPICUOUS AND EVERY DAY SERVICE THE NAVY

Top (left), Annapolis midshipman who rose from the ranks. Left to right, John W. Rowe, Herman S. Corbett, William W. Weir, William B. Buehler, William B. Buehler. They were appointed to competitive examinations. Top (right), Glass work, Artillery, Gunners' class in navy yard at Washington. Bottom, Section under instruction in competitive examinations.

The United States navy is the best paid navy in the world, and it presents opportunities for advancement equal to those of almost any profession. A man-of-war's man never loses his job, even temporarily, for lack of work. He is always sure of his pay, of clean, healthful surroundings. His health is the primary concern of a skillful staff of physicians. In time of injury or illness he receives without cost the best medical and hospital attendance, and after thirty years of service he may retire on three-quarters of his pay, earned of a never failing income so long as he lives.

Excepting the cost of his clothing, after the first outfit, which is furnished gratis, and a deduction of 20 cents a month for the hospital fund, a man-of-war's man's pay is all "net." He has no board to pay, no rent and no doctor's bill. Considering his steady work and perquisites, he is much better off than the average mechanic or clerk, considering with losses through ill health, dissipation, weather and business depressions.

A recruit can readily see the position and salary he may earn by earnest and intelligent effort. From the time he enters the training station he receives useful instruction and encouragement. His advance can be measured only by his diligence, behavior and ability. For opportunities, extend over a field offered by no other service. Seamen are required to steer, man the boats, the guns and turbines and do the general work of the ship outside of the engine room; clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers to handle records and accounts; gunners, stewards and cooks; electricians, machinists, plumbers, painters, ship fitters, cooperers and blacksmiths and boiler-makers to keep ships in repair; radio operators, firemen, torpedo men to handle torpedoes. The special service branches embrace aviators, navigators and fighting of the ship as seamen, gunners, torpedo men, quartermasters and boatmen, and in the auxiliary branch the tradesmen of the navy, machinists, electricians, carpenters, cooperers, painters, etc. The following table gives the various ratings of each branch and the respective rates of pay:

Attractive as these inducements are, they are by no means the advantages offered by the navy. Uncle Sam knows the value of experienced men, so when a man has been discharged from the navy he is given a bonus of $500.00. If he is a United States citizen, he is given a bonus of $1,000.00. In addition, he will get four months' pay and $120.00 a month if he is a foreigner. Second enlistment men have no difficulty in attaining the position of a man-of-war's man.

LURED TO DEATH BY WOLVES
Squaw who Set Out in Search of Missing Child Met Same Fate as the Little One.

A Labrador missionary, says Mrs. Batten in the World, told a curious story which occurred on the Labrador coast some years ago. One night the little daughter of a certain house was missing, and on the following day the tracks of the child were seen. A party of men went out to look for her. What was their alarm when a little way from camp, they found that the footprints of a great grey wolf accompanied those of the child. The brute did not appear to have harmed her, but had apparently pushed along ahead, leading the child further and further from camp. In probability the child's instinct for a dog and released reality, through the superstitious Indians, of course, caused the brute to be executed. The Indians, however, were creeping on, and, through much, the wolves continued to follow the tracks of the wolf and the child.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels presenting honor medals to thirteen sailors for bravery at Vera Cruz, Mexico. Presentation took place on board the battleship Florida at the Brooklyn navy yard. View of medal also shown.

ON the afternoon of Jan. 6, 1914, there were assembled on the quarterdeck of the United States ship Florida in the presence of the secretary of the navy, the commander in chief of the United States Atlantic fleet, his staff, the captains and officers of vessels then in port and hundreds of their comrades of the ranks, who had shared their dangers and borne with patience months of tedious duty in a tropical climate, the thirteen enlisted men of the navy who distinguished themselves under fire at Vera Cruz. They were to receive the much prized medal of honor. It was the tribute of the country, voted by that body, for their meritorious conduct when put to the severest test. In addressing our newest heroes at the presentation exercises Secretary Daniels said:

"The medals presented today are tokens of a grateful country's appreciation of work well done, of duty well performed, of readiness to face grave danger. They are given to men who by their conduct under fire have won renown not only for themselves but for their companies in arms, their comrades who, while posing for opportunity for their companies in arms, the good fortune of their shipmates in being where the fight was thickest, the service in which they served, for that is the emblem of men bearing arms. And that is one of the most pleasing elements in the gratification we for today—this readiness to extend the medal to the honor to him who wears the uniform."

"You know that the signal most prized in the fleet is the one flying from the flag of the United States. It is the blue badge of courage; take him by the hand, for his hand rests on the hilt of his sword with respect, for he rings true, and his heart is of the finest gold."

"The badge of honor is the highest recognition any American can receive from his government. All fourteen who were awarded the medal of honor received also a gratuity of $100. Thirteen of them were advanced six grades, and the fourteenth man was given permission to participate in the next examinations for war."

All fifty-two of the other enlisted men who distinguished themselves in the battle of the United States ship Florida were awarded the medal of honor. The medal of honor is the highest recognition any American can receive from his government. All fourteen who were awarded the medal of honor received also a gratuity of $100. Thirteen of them were advanced six grades, and the fourteenth man was given permission to participate in the next examinations for war."

CLASS AT WORK IN NAVY ELECTRICAL SCHOOL
Titled to a pension equal to half pay and to be admitted into the Naval home, Philadelphia, Pa.

Any enlisted person in the navy who has served thirty years may be placed on the retired list if he so desires. Any service, whether in the navy, marine corps or army, is counted toward retirement. He is allowed three-quarters of the pay he was receiving when retired. In addition, there is allowance amounting to $15.75 a month for rent, quarters, fuel and light.

Promotion to the highest rank is open to the enlisted man. As an American citizen he may be promoted to the rank of admiral in the United States Navy Academy at Annapolis by his congressional constituents. He has certain nominations in this giving. Last year the earliest discharge of Secretary Daniels' Congress authorized the secretary of the navy to appoint fifteen enlisted men to Annapolis each year. They must win the competition in a competitive examination and must have completed one year's service with honor and be under twenty years of age. Bachelors with good records who are under twenty years of age may also participate in examination for the pay corps, appointments to which are made by the secretary of the navy.

Samuel Cook, inventor of the revolver, was born 100 years ago in Hartford, Conn. He was a boy of sixteen on board an East Indian, a sailor before the mast, when he made his first model in wood of his celebrated revolving pistol. At the age of twenty-one he took out his first patent for the weapon. The officers and men of the army and the navy were delighted for a long time to give the revolver their blunt approval, and the first company formed for its manufacture ended in failure. But the Seneca boy in Florida demonstrated the merits of the weapon and it was then adopted by the army. Other wars in different parts of the world created a demand for the revolver, and in the time of the outbreak of the American Civil war the Colt's arms works could hardly meet the call for the famous pistol. Mr. Colt made a great fortune out of his invention, but in 1862, he died at the early age of forty-eight.

Ultra-Violet Rays
Niagara Falls will have the first medical ultraviolet ray sterilization plant in this country. Contract negotiations have been commenced for a $25,000 installation of Mercury vapor lamps protruding into channels through which water will flow, will be used. The ultraviolet rays from these lamps have the power to kill the bacteria in the water. There will be several plants in each of the five concrete canals, although it is estimated that 25 lamps only will be required to handle the capacity of the plant. It is 600,000 gallons daily. The cost of the canal and lamp installations will be $125,000, while the city will erect a building and transformers to change the current from alternating to direct, at a cost of $2,000—Engineering Record.

Not a Matrimonial
Judge—What is your occupation?
Witness—In an expert on figures.
Judge—Oh, a mathematician, eh?
Witness—No, your honor, I abuse the church stile for the musical com-die."

Peace Definition
"What is your idea of peace?"
"Peace," said Mr. Dustin Star, "is a state of affairs in which everything is going my way so strong that there is no use of anybody's making a kick about it."

His Idea
"I know what the cart horse's idea of life is."
"What's his idea?"
"That it is a cart horse, but a thing of wood and wheels."

THE USUAL WAY
"When the will contest was decided, what division of the money was made among the heirs?"
"What the lawyers left."

COMPARISONS
"My favorite heroine has a flower face."
"That's nothing. My favorite hero has a chrysanthemum head."

A Good Example

"I am a good example," writes Mrs. R. L. Bell, of McAlester, Okla., "of what Cardui will do for suffering women."

"I suffered with my head and back, for over six years, and although I tried everything, I never could get anything to do me any good, until I began to take Cardui. Cardui has surely helped me and built me up and I am so thankful that I have found something that will do me good. I feel so much stronger and better than I have in a long time."

It is well to make up your mind before you are sick what medicine you will take when you are sick.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

You will be glad to take it when you are tired, miserable and when life seems a weary grind. It will put new thoughts into your head, fresh courage into your mind. If not sick now, at least burn Cardui on to the pages of your memory, so that when you are sick you will ask for it without thinking.

If sick or weak, get a bottle today. At all druggists.

The Telephone and Good Roads

The telephone goes hand in hand with good roads.

The telephone overcomes many of the obstacles of bad roads and makes it possible for the farmer and other rural residents to transact business in the city and with neighbors when the roads are impassable.

Progressive farmers are insisting upon good roads and telephones. These two agencies of modern civilization are doing more than all others toward eliminating the isolation of country life. You can have a telephone in your home at very small cost. Send a postal for our free booklet giving complete information.
